

Last Sunday, I went to the movie with my wife
(The other day, I saw a good movie. )
It reminded me of the word, "Boy's be ambitious!".
That title of the film was 《ROCKY THE FINAL》 .
The story of this film was wonderful.
The hero, Rocky won the world champion many times was the pinnacle of success.
But, he lost his dearest wife. She was dead of cancer.
Losing his wife, he lost the stability of his mind.
He felt loneliness that he never had before. He disappointed and lost his hopes for life.
His son hated his famous father, and worked at a leading company.
His vigorous feature that ever he had changed utterly.
He decided to pass the rest of his life with running a Italian restaurant 【ADRIEN】 which was named after his wife.
But gradually,
he began to find new challenge. He hesitated to challenge his new dream because of his age and decay in strength.
His Friend Little-Marry encouraged Rocky to try his new dream again. She said "You should do what you want to do.
You should do what you believe to be right. When you hesitate to challenge the new dream, you should challenge it.
If you don't do it, you will have regrets later on.
However great the pitfalls, you have to challenge was objected to by the majority.
He said himself, "Who has the right to stop me?" Finally,
Rocky stood up on the ring to fight again. It was his last fight. He was 60 years old.
The opponent boxer was a champion of the heavyweight division. Dickson was unbeaten boxer.
His dearest son Robert served as a second, and a former trainer, old friends came to support him.
The deadly battle went on until 15th round, Rocky never gave up trying to fight.
The fighting scene moved me to tears. Tears of deep emotion ran down my face. What a marvelous challenge it was!
I was very impressed his difficult challenge at 60 years old.
I also would like to continue to keep my dreams and I eager to challenge to make bigger company.

April 30th 2007
T. H

